

Trinity Parish Safeguarding Policy Statement

Safeguarding Policy for children, young people and adults

Safeguarding Statement from Trinity Church PCC

Our church leadership (Incumbent, Wardens and PCC of Trinity Church) is committed to the safeguarding and protection of all children and adults within our church community. The prevention of harm and protection of the vulnerable is paramount. Our church is an open and welcoming place, but we owe it to those who are vulnerable that we should do all that is possible to safeguard them from harm.

We aim to encourage sensitivity towards survivors of abuse and will signpost them to information about services available to them, and to those who walk the road of recovery with them, as necessary. We also aim to maintain a fellowship of trust and acceptance which is open in all its dealings and which loves and welcomes all – but has illusions about none.

We will challenge any abuse of power by anyone in a position of trust and respond without delay to any complaint, cooperating with police and the local authority in any investigation as required. Church members and others linked with our church are encouraged to report any concerns they have, however big or small, to the safeguarding officer in the first instance; church wardens, or other members of the leadership team as necessary.

We will work to ensure there is no negative comeback for those who raise their concerns; and confidentiality will be kept according to the protocols set out in this policy.

This Policy incorporates the Diocese of Exeter Safeguarding Policy 2017 with personalised content to Trinity Church. It also acknowledges the Church of England National Policy and Guidance update 2017 – Promoting a Safer Church; and is underpinned by the Church of England's Parish Safeguarding Handbook. <https://www.churchofengland.org/sites/default/files/2019-10/ParishSafeGuardingHandBookAugust2019Web.pdf>

Foreword by the Bishop of Exeter and theological statement

In Matthew's Gospel Jesus tells his followers, 'You are the light of the world. A city set on a hill top cannot be hidden' (Matthew 5. 14). Christians are to be a transformative presence in society bringing light and hope to others. In particular we are called to be a beacon of good practice in the care and protection of children and vulnerable adults. As Jesus says uncompromisingly, 'If any of you put a stumbling block before one of these little ones who believe in me, it would be better for you if a great millstone were fastened around your neck and you were drowned in the depth of the sea' (Matthew 18.6).

Today safeguarding is at the forefront of public consciousness. In recent years we have become acutely aware of the way in which historic incidents of abuse were sometimes hidden or even tolerated. There must be zero tolerance to such behaviour and the Church needs to be at the vanguard, fostering a change of culture across society. We need to embody best practice in our parishes, schools and chaplaincies. As an organisation, it is vital that we keep people safe and support survivors of abuse, apologising for the wrongs of the past.

The Church is a place where all sorts of people, including perpetrators of abuse, seek acceptance, redemption and forgiveness. Some perpetrators will be genuine in their repentance, but others may not be. This is why forgiveness and vigilance need to go hand-in-hand. Compassion and naiveté are not the same thing.

This document, drawing upon the latest professional wisdom, sets out best practice for all who are working with the young and the vulnerable in our mission communities. Drawing upon the experience of professionals, it sets out principles to prevent abuse, as well as the protocols that must be followed should a problem arise. By operating within the legislative requirements and following this guidance we can ensure that everyone is given the safety and the security which is their right. It also lists information, resources and contact details if further help is needed.

We are determined that those who work with children and adults at risk, many of whom are volunteers, receive proper training and are appropriately supported. As one of the largest providers of voluntary children's and youth work in Devon, we are committed to ensuring that, with God's help, our churches, schools and chaplaincies are safe places where everyone is valued.
